

Peter Drogé, Under The Waves

Under the waves
Deep in the drift
I can feel the salt upon my skin
Under the waves
Falling away
I no longer see the rings of rain

I want to feel it
If just to know it's true
Look me over
It's just a surface wound
Don't pay to fight it
Can't change the color blue
All I wanted was to impress you

Under the waves
Caught in a dream
Lover, can you hear me breathing?
Under the waves
Now that I'm giving in
I can let the current carry me

I want to feel it
If just to know it's true
Love me always
It's just a surface wound
Don't pay to fight it
Can't change the color blue
All I wanted was to impress you

And if I catch myself crying
For things I cannot control
I'll head on back to the water
Where tears are invisible

Under the waves
I know who I am
I don't need to spin the story
Under the waves
Down in the deep
I no longer see the rings of rain
