Peter Gabriel, The Veil

Underneath the sky where the cold winds cross
There's an ocean where data flows
Woman in a boat out on the sea
A sea of little bits of you and me

Let it all go set it all free
You let the whole wide world see
Exactly what is going on Exactly who was looking on

Stories start to leak
They got your name
While up above cloud turns to rain
You can feel the touch of a hand you know well
It's a very long way from Maryland

Some call you a sale
An American hero or a traitor that deserves to die
In the heart of the free world In the home of the brave
You gave up everything to bring down that veil

There's no safe place to go
Now you've let that whistle blow
Show exactly what is going on
Show exactly who was looking on

Let it all go
Set it free
Let it all go
