

Peter Koppes, Luminous

Have you seen the light behind you
History the light
A prophecy that might remind you
Guiding through the night

Oh mercy
Oh have mercy

Tranquillity exists for me
Between the wrong and right
Rules are made for those who need them
There's no need to bite
UFO's would come to us
But we must be a fright

And you talk your way
You walk away
You hawk your way to hell itself

If you showed a real emotion
I'd be on your side
Yet fortunes make you rise to anger
At your out-gone tide

Have you seen the lights behind you
Have you seen the lights

You hawk your way to hell itself
You walk away but you'll be back again
