

Peter Koppes, Take a Vow

I'd take a vow
If it didn't come naturally
Yeah I'd take a vow
To seek love and beauty
To seek love and beauty

It's all I can do
All I ever knew

Consummating passion
All the way to fashion
Enchanting spark
Left it's mark
From then I stoked desire
To quench an endless fire

The eye can deceive
And I believe
What was once attraction
Can fade to no reaction
It's true that the soul
Although not so bold
Possesses the ability
To see through temporarily
