

PFR, You

You thought You could reach the sky
Never knew it was much too high

You believed that you could change
The world with love yeah love how strange

Every war that You fought was not in vain
If someones set free
Every scar You've endured every bit of pain
Has left its mark on me

Those You've touched cant stay the same
Now the angels say Your Name

Every war that You fought was not in vain
If someones set free
Every scar You've endured every bit of pain
Has left its mark on me
