

Phantom Planet, Hey Now Girl

Well let me tell you I have seen a monster age of seventeen
Who'll let you in to kick you out and knows what love is "all about";

Hey now girl I see you walking by
And long ago you used to stop and talk now you just wink your eye and I'm surprised you look all grown up
A champagne glass next to a paper cup
I stopped you just to say it
Hey now girl

Her tongue is black haven't you heard her mutter those three dirty words
For all those foolish boys to hear like a siren bringing ships so near

Hey now girl I see you walking by
And I remember how you used to smile or how hard you used to try
It's in your eyes and I'm in a trance
A winter chill next to a spring romance
I stopped you just to say it
Hey now girl
