

Phantom Planet, Nobody's Fault

Everything is ok everything is fine
I give you everything you ask for don't be so unkind
Well every time you're mad about every little thing
But it's too soon to pull out or pull out that wedding ring
I'm so ready I'm not ready
This little boy is running right back home
I guess it's nobody's fault now but my own
Never had the patience never had the time
Never knew that working hard was such a crime
Well I thought I could make you happy down the line
But I guess it's been over since you heard This Heart of Mine
On your mark get set go
This little boy is running right back home
I guess it's nobody's fault now but my own
