

Phil Ochs, Heres To The State Of Richard Nixon

I Ain't Marching Anymore

Phil Ochs

Written by Phil Ochs and Bob Gibson

Oh, I marched to the battle of New Orleans
At the end of the early British war
The young land started growin'
The young blood started flowin'
But I ain't a-marchin' anymore
But I've killed my share of Injuns
In a thousand different fights
I was there at the Little Big Horn
I saw many men lyin'
I saw many more dyin'
But I ain't a-marchin' anymore