

Pillar, Guess Who's Won

That's it that's the last straw
You've tried so many times that I have to declare war
I'm sick of your foolish attack, devil
So step back I'm on a one way track, devil
To take back all the things that you've stolen
No withholdin I'm rollin and with the scriptures unfolding
That your time is near and wit the power of God I'm gonna persevere
So go ahead and try to turn up the heat
'Cause with my sword drawn you're gonna feel defeat
The seat occupied to the right of my God
Is the reason why I've got my feet shod
The Word of life in the form of three
Is given to me as artillery to sue
To abuse and bruise you leave you standing in a daze wondering who's who You chose to be defeated or to be disarmed
Anyway you want it we're gonna bring you harm
In this battle only strong survive I now who's with me
And who's by my side
He's the tower of strength and the pillar
To a hardened heart He's the tiller
No scrilla can entice me to stay off your tail
I'm gonna keep fighting til God prevails
Cause the alarm has been rung
Praise to God has been sung
The victory dance has been done
The battle's over and GUESS WHO'S WON
