

Pink Cream 69, Where The Eagle Learns To Fly

Somebody's out there in the cold
Freezin' and starvin', I've been told
Breathin' the air we are breathin'

Somebody's out there in the heat
Livin' in dryness and in need
Breathin' the air we are breathin'

Oh Lord, would you please have a heart?
Love is just so far away...

Take your child to a place where no one cries
To the place where the eagle learns to fly
Only there will we find everlasting peace of mind
In the place where the eagle learns to fly

Somebody's stricken by disease
Hopeless and prayin' on his knees
Breathin' the air we are brathin'

Somebody just like you and me
And now he's gone, so who was he?
Breathin' the air we were breathin'

Oh Lord, would you please have a heart?
Love is just so far away...

Take your child to a place where no one cries
To the place where the eagle learns to fly
Only there will we find everlasting peace of mind
In the place where the eagle learns to fly

Oh Lord, would you please have a heart?
Love is so far away, just so far away...

Take your child to a place where no one cries
To the place where the eagle learns to fly
Only there will we find everlasting peace of mind
In the place where the eagle learns to fly

In the place where the eagle learns to fly...