

Pink, Walk Away

i gave you three years of my life
You always said I'd be your wife
What ever happened to the days when life was simple?
Everyone knows my name
I haven't changed,
I'm the same girl I was from the start
Everything's rearranged
You came and changed it
And gave me a broken heart

You don't wanna work it out, no
You wanna take the easy route
Throw your hands up and you walk away
When times get hard you always walk away
You get mad and say you're leaving
Why's it so damn hard for you to talk to me
When it's so easy for you to walk away

So here I am driving down the street
Looking for a sign
When will I meet, the man of my dreams
When will he come to me
When will he come to me
Cause I'm sick of trying
I'm going home back to PA where I came from
And you can stay here
And spend your whole life running
But baby I'm gonna move on

You didn't wanna work it out, no
You wanna take it easy route
You threw your hands up and you walked away,
When times got hard you always walked away
I'm sorry baby but I'm leaving
It was just too hard for you to talk to me
And now its my turn I'm gonna do the same

So there I go leaving you alone
What will you do now all your fears came true
You had my heart you had my soul you had it all didn't you
But I'm sick of trying
I'm going home back to Philly where I come from
And you can stay here and spend your whole life running
But baby I'm gonna move on

You didnt wanna work it out, no
You just wanted the easy route
Threw your hands up and you walked away,
When times get hard you always walked away
I'm sorry baby but I'm leaving
It was just too hard for you to talk to me
Now its my turn I'm gonna do the same
