Pink, Why did I ever like you

Barabarabaraadada There was a 5.8 earthquake today and it kinda got me thinking I'd still have all my hate for you in tact even if I lost everything What did I say Why are you shaking your head You know you done me wrong I may be crazy it's all in my head But I want you darling gone Why did I ever like you What did I see Whatever it was must have been some kind of illusion A Magic trick on me eh eh eh eh It's hard to believe I ever laughed at anything you said Cos you're just not funny Who would believe I'd let you do all those things Oh I guess the joke was on me I tried to be zane I've even asked all my friends To help my let it slide But all I see is your face In my favourite place And I can't help but wonder why Why did I ever like you What did I see Whatever it was must have been some kind of illusion A Magic trick on me eh eh eh eh Yeaaahhheee I tried to be zane I've even asked all my friends To help my let it slide All I see is your face In my favourite place And I can't help but wonder why Why did I ever like you What did I see Whatever it was must have been some kind of illusion A Magic trick on me eh eh eh eh Tell me why did I Why did I ever like you What did I see Whatever it was must have been some kind of illusion A Magic trick on me
