

Pivit, Millennium

"The world's gonna die" Is the countdown
Ready to begin.
All the signs point to yes and the Crossroads are getting mighty thin.

The roads have all been paved.
In time for tidal waves.
In time the devastation of the world
Will see the light.
Come year 2001 Millennium.

We fulfill the prophecy as we're busy tearing down the walls
For all nations have drunk their wine and now they'll fall.

The roads have all been paved for coment cavalcades
In time the revelation of the world
Will see the light.
Come year 2001 Millennium.
