

Pivitplex, Gone

She told him she'd rather fix her makeup
Than try to fix what's going on
But the problem keeps on calling
Even with the cell phone gone

She told him that she believes in living
Bigger than she's living now
But her world keeps spinning backwards
And upside down

Don't say so long, and throw yourself wrong.
Don't spin today away, cause today will soon be

Gone, like yesterday is gone,
Like history is gone
Just trying to prove me wrong and pretend like your immortal

She said, he said, live like no tomorrow
Every day we borrow brings us one step closer to the edge. Infinity.
Where's your treasure, where's your hope,
if you get the world and lose your soul?
She pretends like she pretends like she's immortal.

Don't say so long, you're not that far gone.
This could be your big chance to make up Today will soon be

Gone, like yesterday is gone
Like history is gone
The world keeps spinning on You're going, going,
Gone, like summer break is gone,
Like Saturday is gone
Just try to prove me wrong
You pretend like your immortal.

We are not infinite
We are not permanent
Nothing is immediate
We're so confident in our accomplishments
Look at our decadence.

Gone, like Frank Sinatra, like Elvis and his mom,
Like Al Pacino's cash, nothing lasts in this life
Gone, my highschool dreams are gone, my childhood sweets are gone
Life is a day that doesn't last for long.

Life is more than money, time was never money
Time was never cash, life is still more than girls.
Life is more than hundred dollar bills and roto-tom fills,
Life more than fame and rock and roll and thrills,
All the riches of the kings end up in wills
We've got information in the information age but do we know what life is Outside of our convenient Lexus cages

She said he said live like no tomorrow
Every moment that we borrow brings us closer to the God who's not short of cash
Hey Bono, I'm glad you asked.
Life is still worth living, life is still worth living Life is more than what we are.
