

PJ Harvey, Leaving California

California

Leaving

California

California

Leaving

California

No one but me is walking
under palms that give no shade

I'm leaving you today

California

Leave me

California

Leave

California

Leave Me

California

How cruel was I to think that

I could you change

Oh give me some shade

Oh England come soon

How could I've believed that I could live and breathe in you

Ooh

California

Killed me

California

California

Killed me

California

I think it's time to leave

I think it's time to leave

I told no one I'd stay

I think it's time to leave

Ooh
