Placebo, Black Market Blood

Wasted face that swallowed time With Armageddon crawling She's insane, this friend of mine And she's always bawling Hear her calling Hear her calling you Hear her calling Hear her calling Hear her calling

There's a place within her mind With rains already falling She's insane, this friend of mine And she's always bawling Hear her calling Hear her calling you Hear her calling Hear her calling Hear her calling you

She's preparing for the flood The deluge and the sliding mud She's preparing for the flood Running on black market blood Black market blood
