

Plain White T's, All That We Needed

If you could come clean about everything it would be easy for you to be sorry if you could see all the possibilities we might not still be standing where we started

oh no
don't let me go for this

I might be a fool, but you might be one too maybe we're all that we needed two wrongs don't make a right but I don't care tonight
maybe we're all that we needed

you could say we were just a big mistake I think it's worth making worth repeating
I would say good things come to those who wait I would say anything if you'd believe it

oh no
don't let me go for this

I might be a fool, but you might be one too
two wrongs don't make a right
but I don't care tonight
maybe we're all that we needed

Maybe we're perfectly not meant to be Or more alike then were willing to see Maybe we're not meant to not disagree Maybe we're crazy baby
