

Plants And Animals, Faerie Dance

I thought I would know what to do when the time came I thought I would know when to leave when the time came I thought I could recognize the sign I thought I would know when the planets had aligned
I was wrong, I didn't know anything at all
I was wrong, I didn't know anything at all saving all the letters you wrote and i'm all alone for the first time and I can't help help but wonder what's gone wrong

then fell asleep under a tree got woken up by birds and bees they're hard at work, but they're hardly workin' there might be rain, but not for certain followed the trail to the wild flowers I cut as many as I could handle I was workin' hard, but hardly workin' I heard the train, but not for certain oh, we're living in the wild life we're living in the wild life fell asleep under a tree,

got woken up by birds and bees,
they're hard at work, but they're hardly workin',
there might be rain, but not for certain
