

Plus/Minus, For You

Sunlight in the hall
Slips between the cracks in the floorboards
Where I've settled in
Buried deep in your torrent of memories flooding in

So now you give up
Watch you sink into some great oblivion
No hands on the wheel
Lights off and the static of a.m. coming in

You don't want to be Somewhere in between
Before you begin to fall into
Some silly suicide play
Throwing all of it away

Sunlight in the hall
Slips between the cracks in the floorboards
Where I've settled in
