Plus/Minus, For You

Sunlight in the hall Slips between the cracks in the floorboards Where Ive settled in Buried deep in your torrent of memories flooding in

So now you give up Watch you sink into some great oblivion No hands on the wheel Lights off and the static of a.m. coming in

You dont want to be Somewhere in between Before you begin to fall into Some silly suicide play Throwing all of it away
