

Plus/Minus, Time And Space

There's something to be said for waiting despite the knowledge it'll never come In the face of doubt learn to go without and within

And there's something to be said for action to see the consequences get played out In the end you find you've run out of time and space in your heart

OK
Alright
You're OK
but it's not fine

And now you're coming round the corner again and you're leaving everything behind Out of sight
out of mind
You've run out of time and space in your heart

Alright
You're OK
but it's not fine

Where did you go to?
Nothing left to hold onto Can you just close up?
Can you just give up?
