

Plus One, Quest Of Many Trails

if your tears want out then let them fall they'll hit your cheeks and then dissolve

your see nothing heals quite like time
it fills the gap between dreams and real life so give your pain a chance to run itself dry
ahhhh... remember the story without all the hurt
hold on to the fruit and wash off all the dirt you see life is bittersweet and sweet's the best part you'd never rate your happy without sad on the chart stars colliding against the dark of the night

you'll climb over the moon tonight on your quest of many trails

remember, will you remember who brought you here
your home
