

Plus One, The Promise

Yeah.....

I know that lately things have been so hard and looking out through your broken heart all you can see is dark and lonely days ahead but remember Jesus said

C H O R U S

He knows every star in the sky every single tear that you cry, His love is here faithful and alive i know that this world can be cold in His arms your never alone that's His promise to you and I

When hope has disappeared and your heart aches you mite not recognize the touch of grace
but on the other side of every dying dream His love is waiting patiently

(repeat chorus)

With every angel there's a love that never leaves your side His love is deeper than the ocean or a mountain high you've got to know there's hope in your heart and if you listen with your heart i know you'll hear Him say you are my child and I am with you each and everyday
He is the one Who knows your soul

(repeat chorus)

That's the promise for you and I
