

Podunk, Mockingbird

You need a change, you need a change
The clouds they come and bring the rain
And from what they've heard
You're a mockingbird who flew away
You stayed so long, you lost your way
Can't find you home

And I know today could be the day
That the song you sing don't have to be the same
And you know that mockingbirds they say
Not all freebirds really ever fly away

You need a change, you need a change
The sun it comes and with it pain
And from what they've heard
You're a mockingbird who flew away
Can't find your home

And I know today could be the day
That the song you sing don't have to be the same
And you know that mockingbirds they say
Not all freebirds really ever fly away
