

Point Of Grace, He Sends His Love

I am writing this to you
And i hope that one day soon
You will come to realize
You are precious in his eyes
I know you feel alone
A million miles from home
It seems that know one cares
That life is so unfair

(pre-chorus)

Hold on to this promise like it's your last breath
Let it fill your heart when it's all you have left

(chorus)

You gotta believe
You gotta be strong
You gotta have faith enough to know no matter where you are
He is always with you
Never give up
Never give in
His only son died for all our sins and he will lift you up
And hold you in his love
He gave his son
He sends his love

When the weight is just to much
And there's no one you can trust
When it's dark and your afraid
Let the spirit guide your way
There is so much left to do
A great big world to wander through
So many people in your life
Waiting to see your smile

(pre-chorus/chorus)

His love is all around you
A fortress that surrounds you
Let it comfort and protect you from the storm
It's time to start a new day
He will help you find your way
To a better place

(pre-chorus/chorus x2)
