

Point Of Recognition, Day Of Defeat

standing proud, sinking in depravity.
speaking of death in total mockery.
too proud to see your own misery.
and you'll suffer with the rest of humanity.
this is your day of defeat.
destruction will befall you, unseen, unexpected.
consequences of open rebellion.
the final day, his final word.
your blood will fill the streets.
no time for mockery and deceit, the truth is made known.
day of defeat and you're gone.
