

Poisonblack, Bear The Cross

"Carpe Diem";

Lame spirits beaten by this love
Countless times have given in, surrendered
Worthlessness weights heavy on the hearts
And pleas for life to wake up seem to echo in vain
And slowly we bury our pain

Bear this cross for the rest of our time
With trust forsaking us
Blame is braking us
Is this all truly worth of our lies?
Together we stand alone

Bear this cross for the rest of these lives
We both know we're coming back
Yeah, we're coming back
Is this all truly worth of our cries?
Together we die alone

Moaning in this pseudo-happiness
Where the shit stained teeth fake a smile
Keeping everything locked within
When true tears are reliving
And the warmth of an embrace, not a threat
And slowly we bury our dead

Bear this cross for the rest of our time
With trust forsaking us
Blame is braking us
Is this all truly worth of our lies?
Together we stand alone

Bear this cross for the rest of these lives
We both know we're coming back
Yeah, we're coming back
Is this all truly worth of our cries?
Together we die alone

(Bear this cross for the rest of our time)

Bear this cross for the rest of our time
With trust forsaking us
Blame is braking us
Is this all truly worth of our lies?
Together we stand alone

Bear this cross for the rest of these lives
We both know we're coming back
Yeah, we're coming back
Is this all truly worth of our cries?
Together we die alone