

Poluzjanci, Perfect guy you will never find the right man, honey you will never find any kind of a prince even if you want to try and look for such a fellow girl you'd better keep him in your dreams 'cause I've got to tell you a pretty harsh truth baby the perfect guy don't exist I know I'm not the kind of man you dreamed of I always bet foolish when you're close to me I stop making sense and act like idiot even thhou my intentions ain't as bad as you think so let me come to you give you hug and a kiss

the perfect guy don't exist I don't know what do to make think to make you start treating me right I don't know how to open your mind and make you listen to your heart I know that you listen to many people and you try to find a riht place in this world but I think that it would be much easier if you started listening to yourself so let me tell you one more time honey girl you'd better stop dreaming of a perfect dude try to fall in love with someone baby, maby it's a destination god has chosen for you so let me come to you give you hug and kiss the perfect guy just don't exist
