

Porter Wagoner, Hands Of Love

So many never know the feeling of love and they go through a lifetime all alone
Not knowing what a friendly hand would feel like on their shoulder
Or hands of love to welcome them at home
The hands of love can make you feel like heaven
Has blessed each thing you touch along the way
And when life seems to weaken you until you can't go on
The hands of love will make you twice as strong

Sweetheart your hands of love have always helped me
Through all the good or bad times just the same
And when you hold me now my darling I still feel like heaven
Has given me the answer to my dream
The hands of love...
The hands of love will make you twice as strong
