JUST BEFORE DAWN

Writer Ned Mille and Roy Aldridge)

Uh uh uh uh just before dawn

Just before the sun breaks the darkness just before the shadows move on

I know a fool like me should be sleeping just uh hu uh uh before dawn

I keep telling my heart it's not worth it for all time our love's been living on

Still I'm here all alone my heart's breaking uh hu uh uh before dawn

I hold you in my arms while I'm sleeping

I awake to find the pillow I sleep on and you're gone

Just before the sun breaks the darkness just before the shadows move on

I beg my aching heart to forget you uh hu uh uh before dawn

Uh uh uh uh just before dawn
