

Porter Wagoner, Love To Remember

Your love's as fresh in my mem'ry as this morning's sunrise
And still just as beautiful to me
I can still feel the soft touch of love warm and tender
You give me love to remember
Nights with no ending filled with love I'm remembering
Each night that I spent with you
I can still feel your soft touch I can still feel your warm love
You give me love to remember

When I wake up each morning before I leave my pillow
I search through my dreams carefully
Just to make sure that I don't leave one tiny mem'ry
For I dream of the love I remember
Nights with no ending...
