

Porter Wagoner, Love With Feeling

When your heart feels like a feather in a whirl wind
And you see stars in the middle of the day
And you feel so light you could fly and you think that any moment
The slightest breeze might blow you away
That's love you're feeling that's love with feeling
Touching tender love inside your soul
That's love you're feeling that's love with feeling
That takes you away on loved wings of solid gold

When you're all alone and each minute seems like eternity
As thoughts of love come rushing through your mind
And in the middle of the night you feel lips kiss you while you're all alone
Don't be alarmed it's only this love of mine
That's love you're feeling...
