

Porter Wagoner, She Left Me Love

She left me love enough to last a lifetime if I live to be time's oldest man
So I have no reason to search for new love she left me love enough for any man
My mind is filled with mem'ries sweet and tender
My heart is filled with love she left for me
Each thought of her just makes the love grow sweeter
She left me love to last eternaly
( steel )
I just close my eyes and she still holds me
In dreams she loves me just like she used to do
Then she wakes me with a tender kiss each morning
That lingers on my lips the whole day through
My mind is filled...
