Porter Wagoner, Try Being Lonely

Just try being lonely and you'll know just how I feel I saw you with your new love and oh it hurt me so Funny how I see your face everywhere I go You smiled and looked to be so happy as you passed by So I stepped around the corner so you wouldn't see me cry Supposed you wanted someone the way I want you Just imagine your body mind and soul breaking in two Walk the floor each night shed tears you can't conceal Just try being lonely and you'll know just how I feel Just try being lonely and you'll know just how I feel
