

Post Malone, Take What You Want (feat. Ozzy S i feel you crumble in my arms down to your heart of stone you bled me dry just like the tears you never show

why don't you take
what you want from me?
take what you need from me
take what you want and do
what you want from me?

I never needed anything from you and all I ever asked was for the truth you showed your tongue and it was forked in 2

your venom was lethal I almost believe you

you preyed on my every mistake waited on me to break held me under hope I would drown like a plaque

i was wasting away
tryna find my way out find my way out
