

Power Symphony, Evillot

Marco Cecconi, Michela D'Orlando

Sinister as the day of my birth death descends, shades the stormy north Snow covered peaks will be painted with stains red of blood as the anthem begins Echoes the chanting, the oath has been taken under the ominous sky Chaos has begun

Guitar Solo: Marco

Evil I serve
beware of his command
Evil I serve
upon my word I swear
Evil I serve
I scorn the light of the scorching sun.

Feel the will, utter the raving words swear the oath to my rightful lord Eve of the blooding, I'm leaving this world sick of light to return nevermore Stronger then ever, uncanny like never before is the power I feel Chaos has begun.

Guitar Solo: Marco

Evil I serve
beware of his command
Evil I serve
upon my word I swear
Evil I serve
to scorn the light of the scorching sun

Eve of the blooding, the change is not complete and goodness overcomes me memories are talking to me They speak to me, they scream to me, they tell me things They say I've gone astray...
They say "You've gone astray"; Maleficent fate.

But echoes the anthem arcane from the depth
Evil I serve
beware of his command
Evil I serve
I've gone too far from the scorching sun

Sinister is his warning upon the wind my Lord has come to torment me, grinning at my agony He knows I crave for light... He knows I crave for the scorching sun Sinister and ominous was the day of my beginning the darkest day, the final pain, slowly ends and fades and I crave for light... I crave for the scorching sun Sinister and evil-hearted as I am from my beginning I crave for light... I crave for the sun to shine.
