

Powerman 5000, I Knew It

The opposite of bravery has always been conformity
Don't trust your friends, they'll sell you out
Cause they don't know what you're about
They want to change everything

To make you fit don't be so strange
But listen up and see it through
I'll say it now, they know less than you

I knew it, I knew it, I knew it, I knew it was true
I knew it, I knew it, I knew it, so why didn't you?

The enemy within yourself
Is always blaming someone else
Don't trust yourself you're not ok
Your time will come but not today

They clamp down on your neck
You're giving up with no respect
I think i know what's up your sleeve
But what you see now you cannot believe

I knew it, I knew it, I knew it, I knew it was true
I knew it, I knew it, I knew it, so why didn't you?
