

Precious, New beginning

On the day I couldn't see my heart I felt insecure The meaning of loving somebody it's something I decide myself truth can be found in everything I promise you, I won't wander off anymore I'll be strong...and prove myself to you I won't run away, I'll turn around to face you so I can see how you feel, to heart
*I will believe so the two of us can be together in love
In order for my wish to reach the sky
I will look for you, and pray for the two of us
A pair of thoughts, now they can come together and from a whole Your precious love
When pain or bitterness pulls us apart, we can hold each other We're no longer alone, because everything is answered by true love
I will believe
so the two of us can be together in love I'll hold your hand forever, don't let go, let's make a promise, the two of us
A pair of thoughts, now they can come
together and from a whole
Just the two of us I believe that right now we can strengthen this young and complacent love
There can be truth
A new beginning
I want to be one with you
I will believe that we can come together right now, right here, and love each other So in order to light your light fill me
I hug you tightly
