Precious, Say It Again (Eurovision 1999)

Say it again I know i heard you right I've been lying awake at night thinking about 3 words you said to me I know it's hard for you sometimes you gotta let the feeling through I wanna know exactly how you feel (oh yeah) I've tried to be patient and give you a little more time now I need to be sure what's on your mind say it again say yeah say the words I heard you whisper say it again say yeah when last night we were together lying next to me, you said to me say it say it again I knew right from the start you've been living with a broken heart but baby I knew it takes some time to heal but now I must confess the way you fill me with happiness thinking we could be starting something real I've tried to be patient and give you a little more time now I need to be sure what's on your mind say it again say yeah say the words i heard you whisper say it again say yeah when last night we were together lying next to me, you said to me say it say it again now I just need to sure that you're mine forever all I'm asking you for is to tell me wether I should be trusting in you tell me if the words you whispered were true say it say it say it say it say it again say yeah say the words i heard you whisper say it again say yeah when last night we were together lying next to me, you said to me say it say it again (repeat)
