

Premiere, When You Love Someone

Out of the blue she came to see me It's been a while since we've been apart (ohh yes it was) truth be told my knees they were trembling I swear I felt like a little child for she was more beautiful than ever a healing sight to my own eyes the fact that we weren't together never crossed my mind
So I asked her how she's been doin (well well well) Is she seeing someone new? (seeing someone new) She replied "I find that something's been missing, baby and I'm thinking it might be you" That's when she put her arms around me and laid her face on mine yeah shortly thereafter she lifted her hand (lifted her hand) and gently kissed my lips and

CHORUS

Cause when you love someone,
truly love someone
No matter how hard you try sometimes you can't let go (no no no, no no no)
And if the one you love
should feel the same way in return
Then make the one you love yours forever

We talked all night well into morning Catching up on days gone by (catching on days gone by) Before I left he said he had something to show me (what he show me) and what he showed me brought tears to my eyes All over his room were cards and pictures reminicing the one world gone then cheek to cheek he softly whispered to you I dedicate my soul

CHORUS

Cause when you love someone,
truly love someone
sometimes you can't let go
And if the one you love
should feel the same way in return
Then make the one you love yours forever

Suddenly I feel the sunlight shining down upon me Like it never has before From now on I promise that together we'll be inseperable forever more We'll make it better than it was before When you love someone
no matter how hard you try sometimes we can't let go

CHORUS

Cause when you love someone,
truly love someone
sometimes you can't let go
And if the one you love
should feel the same way in return
Then make the one you love yours forever

My heart's found its way back home My baby's never gonna have to worry about a thing I'm down for him until the end She's the love of my life
