

Presence, Van Down By The River

[Verse:]

I'm underrated in your eyes undersized but on the rise inclined to quench your hunger like supersizin' your fries it's time to speak the truth we're runnin' out of time the ties that you have with your friends is the prize we need to recognize hellos and goodbyes and if we realize before we die then we are wise keep digging down deep inside don't analyze the cries just try to push ahead through the lows and the highs

[Chorus:]

In a world full of shit I'm comin' fully equipped mic in my hand blunt at my lip kickin somethin never nothin see you bluffin always puffin rough and tough and stuffin my soul with the van down by the river

[Verse:]

Now someone's got beef
'cause you grew up in the east you ain't claimin' the west so he knocks out your teeth just another beatin' on the crime-infested streets the strong get stronger while the weak are obsolete so may you rest in peace to the recently deceased I know one day soon we will definitely meet and when that day comes son I'll be waitin' and prayin' when the light goes off

[Chorus]
