

Pressure Drop, My Friend

There's no turning back just ahead,
No reason at all you once said,
I need time and space to clear my head,
Can't breathe life into what is dead.
The more you pull me in,
The more I pull away,
That's the only time,
You hear what I say,
I've come to realise for me you made some disguise,
And you know that I'm not playing.
There's no way you can hurt me,
There's no way you can hold me,
You can't control me just let me be me
I don't need no pick-a-me-up,
No putting me down,
Treating me nice,
When you feel like being around
Making promises you'll never keep
No restless sorrow,
No timeless sleep.
There's no way you can hurt me,
There's no way you can hold me,
X5
There's no way you can hurt me,
You can't control me just let me be me.
