

Pretty Maids, Die With Your Dreams

Once a child of illusions once a king but you've lost your drown where the walls came tumbling down now you walk in the shadows down the boulevard of broken dreams losing track floating with the stream

I know the feeling your feeling like a stranger in a strange land

Cause you dno't see there's love can't feel it enough your heart is your prison when there's no light to be seen that when you die with your
and loose your religion

You're been looking for an answer you've been searching for the key to life you've been crying in the dead of night
see you drown is the darkness in the world so freezin' cold its like a nail bammered through your soul

Sometimes it seems that you're been born under a bad sign

(Chorus)

Down in the dust where there's no one to trust when there's nothing to hold on to store yourself blind in the mirrors of time for the great divine

You can't choose can't break the chains there's nothing to lose and nothing to gain it's your life your fate has been sealed you're alone with your lack of brief

(Chorus)
