Pretty Maids, Wake Up To The Real World

You take a trip down memory lane Back in the childhood days When everyday was an innocent game And life a fairy tale Youre a twenty first century girl And hope is all youve got You place your bets on happy endings You know youre dreaming Just pretending youre not You hideaway in colour full dreams From the dark of night Sick of man sick of extremes And the world outside You face the day with false illusions Made up dreams and blind confusion Step into it open up your eyes Wake up to the real world Sleeping beauty you still fantasize Wake up to the real world Whats it like in in the world where you are In your secret place Do you feel love healin your scars Do you feel embraced cause there your mind is free to wander Where no ones gonna steal your thunder Step into it open up your eyes Wake up to the real world Sleeping beauty you still fantasize Wake up to the real world Face the music dont you realize Youre living in the real world Sleeping beauty out of your disguise Wake up to the real world oh Ooh ooh ooh ooh Ooh ooh ooh ooh oh Youre living in a strange reality no no You only see what you wish to see aw Step into it open up your eyes Wake up to the real world Sleeping beauty you still fantasize Wake up to the real world Face the music dont you realize Youre living in the real world Sleeping beauty out of your disguise Wake up to the real world Wake up to the real world Wake up to the real world