

Pretty Things, Cold Stone

In the sky you're runnin' white liquid at your feet miserable through the darkness look so obsolete
now the walls are falling now that you are free will you pin your hopes on lies don't pin them on me

we're goin' down slow
we're in a hole
to beg a please
now rest for me

beneath the sky you're runnin' white mucous skin you throw chase out a bloodstained weasel just might be a stow

through the velvet forest white whitenesses at hand oh brave soldier what's so sad don't you understand

This world is just cold stone

to beg a please
now rest for me
