

Pride And Fall, Construct

Beneath these thoughts that i have called conscious and domain and berried deep within me is my strength and its called hate constructive mind destructive thoughts what is left is in my mind ive got all parts but less is time to built this machine of mine the time we have the time we spent
i question my fate for you
the time we have
can you catch me if i fall?
ill use my strength to get this done my hate will guide my when i am blind and when my vengeance takes his form my creation will soon be known if i am wrong or if i fail how will help me, will i be saved? or by the time that i should be done will it work this machine of mine
the time we have
the time we have
can you catch me if i fall.
