

Primal Fear, Another Hero

We're losing track this all will end in total chaos
But who's to blame nobody knows
Mobilize the pack pull back and let them do it
When all is done he's on the run

Have we all completely lost our minds
We have only one planet and one life

Where is the savior who shows us the way
We need a guide back to sanity
In times like these without piece of mind
We need someone who stops this inhumanity
Another hero

If none of us can do it then there must be someone who can
Enough is enough something has to be done
We all have descendants and we want them to be well
Remember this you're not alone

Have we all completely lost our minds
We have only one planet and one life

Where is the savior who shows us the way
We need a guide back to sanity
In times like these without piece of mind
We need someone who stops this inhumanity
Another hero
