

Primal Scream, It's Alright, It's OK

There's a time to remember
A time to forget
The world out there
Just shoot her down
No time for the quit
There's a place
I wanna go
A girl I wanna see
She's leaving in her big black car
Leaving without me

It's alright, it's ok
You can do
Just what you want to Take your time
Walk away
You can come back
If you're supposed to

I don't care about tomorrow
When I feel like this today
Make a start to another's path
That's never been my way
Don't believe what to tell ya
That you will be a guy
There's no part and pretender
When you know that is that?

It's alright, it's ok
You can fix it, wash it if it's broken
Take your time
Walk away
You can close it once it's been open

Many times all alone and you wouldn't die
And you cry
And you cry
Walk it down, down the streets
No-one to speak
And you cry
And you cry

If you really think about it
You've got everything you need
No-one can stop ya
If you truly believe
It just fixiate to cut you
There's no place for the weak
People sad collect dodges
Wait for someone to break

It's alright, it's ok
You can be, anytime you want to
Take your time
Walk away
You can come back
