Primal Scream, When The Kingdom Comes

The mood sinks after sun
The night time kills the day
Women got the power
Living free, you gotta pay

Yeah, choose good or evil baby
Catch us and i'll burn away

You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
When the kingdom comes

Some good seeds
With bad blood bleed
But that's the way it goes
My head is a place
Where chaos reigns
I find peace in soul

The world is sick
People don't mix now
Cans replace the land

You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
When the kingdom comes

Time after time
You're throwing pearls at swine
You burn a little piece of your soul
But to many people
Don't quit the needle
When a kid comes to know
Alright

The mood sinks after sun
The night time kills the day
Women got the power
Living free you've gotta pay

You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
When the kingdom comes

Watch out now

You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
You better run, run, run
When the kingdom comes

Here it comes now
