

Primer 55, No Sleep

Well I'll never, give up again. You know well I'll never, betray myself again.
I toss and turn because I can't sleep.
Can't concentrate because I can't think.
Well I'll never, let go again. You know well I'll never, go back again, again.
Another night that I can't sleep,
I block it out of my memories.

(chorus)
falling further down, face first to the ground chance to keep me sober, get up, get up, get up take the offer.

Well you'll never, believe in me. You know well you'll never, look down on me, again.
I'm breaking down my insecurities.
I'm in control of my stability and,
I'll never, look back again and I'll never, look back again, again.
I'm putting all of this behind me;
I'm in control of my memories.

(chorus)

(b verse)
well now come on, give it up say buck, buck, buck give it all back to me.
